NEW MEXICO HEALTH CONNECTION

DIRECTORY OF HEALTH SERVICES FOR NEW MEXICO

New Mexico Health Connection links New Mexicans to local health services. This online directory provides contact information for nearly 3000 health-related services in the state.

LINK TO QUALITY HEALTH INFORMATION

The listings in New Mexico Health Connection link to reliable health information provided by the National Library of Medicine through the MedlinePlus® consumer health database. This allows visitors to the New Mexico Health Connection website to read about a health topic and also find services that are relevant to their needs, or the needs of their families and friends.

SELECTION OF SERVICES

New Mexico Health Connection provides dependable information on health services in New Mexico. Only services that match defined criteria are included in the directory. Resources are selected according to the following criteria:

- Professional qualifications of those providing the service
- Relevance of the service to the local community
- Content and organization of websites, if present

A variety of services are covered in the directory ranging from acupuncturists to cancer clinics to food programs.

The directory provides the name, address, phone number and description of each service. Websites are also included when available.

SEARCH FOR LOCAL SERVICES

Services can be browsed by location, service type, or health issue. You can also search the website to find the information you need.

CONTACT A MEDICAL LIBRARIAN

Use the “Contact Us” link listed on every page to reach a medical librarian with your health information question. The “Contact Us” link can also be used to suggest a site or correct a directory entry.

NEW MEXICO GO LOCAL TEAM

The team is led by Barbara Nail-Chiwetalu, Coordinator for Distance Services and is comprised of Henry Guenther, William Kinney and Cory Meyer.
