- 2) When you have made all of your selections, click on the Folder Has X Items icon at the top of the screen.

- 3) From the next screen select Save to Disk.
- 4) At the next screen, above your list of references, click on the link labeled Export..

- 5) Click on “Direct Export to RefWorks” and then click Save.

- 6) Refworks will automatically launch, (if you have pop-up blockers enabled, you may have to click at the top of the screen to temporarily allow pop-ups), and you will get a message saying that your import is complete and how many references were downloaded. Click on the View Last Imported Folder to see the references. You must select which ones to import into your RefWorks database and into which folder.
