for the Practicing Dental Hygienist

Course Description:

Local Anesthesia for the Practicing Dental Hygienist is a 5-day local anesthesia course that will prepare the practicing dental hygienist to take the Western Regional Local Anesthesia Examination or equivalent examinations. The next local anesthesia board exam will be offered in March 2010, allowing the dental hygienists who successfully complete the course to take the local anesthesia board following this course. Dental hygienists planning to take the WREB exam must register on line at www.wreb.org to qualify to take the exam. Check WREB online for registration deadline by December 2009. There will be another local anesthesia exam offered at UNM in June. All participants who take this course are welcome to attend a review of local anesthesia offered to UNM students the week prior to the examination at no additional charge.

This five-day course includes all the information that is taught in the UNM semester long local anesthesia course (no information or requirements are excluded) and is completed within five days rather than an entire semester allowing the practicing dental hygienist the opportunity to receive licensure in local anesthesia. Dental Hygienists who register for the course will receive the course packet and text book on the first day of class. Class size is limited so registrations will be accepted on a first come basis.

Course Content:

Neurophysiology      Pharmacology
Neuroanatomy        Medical history review
Armamentarium      Injection techniques
Local and systemic complications
