

Beth Jones, P.T., DPT, MS, OCS

Assistant Professor

Beth Jones received her Bachelor's in physical therapy from the University of Vermont in 1982, her Masters in Physical therapy in orthopedics and biomechanics from Old Dominion University in 1994 and her Doctorate in Physical therapy from AT Still University in 2004.

Dr. Jones has held academic appointments at the University of St. Augustine where she was an Assistant Professor and Academic Coordinator of Clinical Education from 1994 – 1997. From 1999 – 2002 she held an appointment at the University of Hawaii school of Medicine where she taught Gross Anatomy. Throughout her teaching career she has maintained a clinical practice and successfully sat for her Orthopedic Certification Specialization (OCS) in 2002.

Dr. Jones currently teaches Gross anatomy not only to the Physical Therapy program but also within the medical school curriculum. Her other duties include being the instructor of record for Differential Diagnosis/pathology, Evidence Based Physical Therapy and Advanced Spinal Manipulation. She maintains a clinical practice at a private practice in Albuquerque with a specialization in treatment of spinal disorders.