

Celebrating Corporate Compliance and Ethics Week, Nov. 3-9, 2023 – also known as Compliance Week at the University of New Mexico and UNM Health Sciences Center (HSC).

Compliance Week is held nationally during the first week of November with a primary focus on awareness, recognition, and the strengthening of a healthy culture of compliance.

Over the course of the next few weeks, the HSC Compliance Department will be featuring a different compliance-related topic in our weekly communications. This week, we want to introduce you to our Compliance Team, highlight some of the activities we have planned during Compliance Week and share some communication/outreach initiatives the HSC Compliance Department has been working on to further enhance a culture of compliance and a better understanding of how each of us plays a role in Doing the Right Thing.

In collaboration with the UNM Office of Compliance, Ethics and Equal Opportunity, (CEEO) the HSC Compliance Department will be presenting an ACE (Advancing Compliance and Ethics) Award to one individual at UNM Health System and one individual at UNM Health Sciences Center who enhance and promote a healthy, ethical, and compliant working and learning environment. (To learn more about prior ACE Champions click here for 2022 and here for 2023.)

In addition, this year, we will be bringing Compliance Week to you! Representatives from the UNM Health Sciences Compliance Department will be hosting three-hour information booth sessions to spread awareness and to celebrate Compliance Week. The information booths will be set up at the following locations and will be geared toward staff/faculty/clinicians. We'll have electronic and printed informational material, a fun game of spin-the-wheel for awesome Compliance swag, and our staff will be available for individual Q&A.
