

Thu Anh Nguyen, MD, PhD, Country Director, Woolcock Institute of Medical Research in Viet Nam

Dr. Nguyen Thu Anh is an epidemiologist and a social scientist by training, with more than 20 years of experience. She holds an honorary position as Senior Clinical Lecturer at University of Sydney, and the head of the Woolcock Institute of Medical Research in Viet Nam, where she has led a team of over 60 staff from three offices. She has been an investigator for multidisciplinary research projects on health, agriculture, technology application, human behaviors, gender, equity, and economic empowerment totaling over $20 million in competitive research funding. She has worked occasionally as a senior consultant for UNAIDS Asia - Pacific region, WHO, and international NGOs in development work.