

Arts, Music, Culture

“New Mexico has a unique culture and there is so much to do here. Santa Fe and Taos are renowned for their many Art Museums and Galleries, there are also lots of local artists and open air markets. The music scene here is amazing! From the Santa Fe Opera to the Albuquerque Symphony, there are folk and jazz festivals including world music at Globalquerque! And the local rock and acoustic music scene is lively as well. There are Native American and Hispanic Cultural Centers where you can learn about the cultures and witness dances and music unique to these cultures. There’s so much to do here, I can’t even begin to do it justice!”

-Pamela Arenella, MD