

Welcome!

Undergraduate Pipeline Network (UPN) Summer Research Experience Application

Hello and thank you for applying to the University of New Mexico School of Medicine Undergraduate Pipeline Network. We will contact you with a decision about participating in the program by the end of April. If have any questions before then, please feel free to contact somreo@salud.unm.edu

Program Dates

Starting June 2 through August 6, 2022

IMPORTANT DEADLINE

UPN 2022 application must be complete by Midnight MST, February 1, 2022

Any incomplete application submitted after the deadline will not be reviewed or considered. Be sure to give yourself plenty of time to complete all sections of the application before the deadline. A complete application requires the following documents, including the letter of recommendation, to be turned in to the UPN program.

- ◆ A complete online application, which includes your personal statement, an unofficial copy of ALL of your transcripts, and a copy of your current academic resume or CV. Unofficial transcripts should not cost money.
- ◆ One letter of recommendation -- Submit your referee's information within this application so we know from whom to expect a letter. You are responsible for asking your referee for a letter of recommendation, which should be sent to somreo@salud.unm.edu before the application deadline (see UPN Admissions website for more details).
- ◆ Your references should be either recent research mentors or faculty members at institutions of higher learning. They should be able to comment on your current ability to perform academically at the undergraduate level and/or comment on your recent research experience.
- ◆ Let your references know of the deadline you are trying to meet. It is your responsibility to confirm with your letter writer they have submitted your recommendation letter before the deadline.

Before you begin, it would be helpful to have your personal statement ready to submit within the application. Your personal statement should include:

1. Your career goals
2. Reasons for wanting to engage in summer research
3. How the UPN program fits into your career plan

TIPS:

1. We recommend you write your personal statement and other long answer questions in a Word program so that you can save your answers as well as run spell check and copy and paste into this online form.
2. DO NOT click the "Done" button until you are satisfied that you have answered all the questions. Once you have clicked the "Done" button, your application will be submitted as is and you will not be able to make edits.
3. Please remember to proof-read your entire application before you click the "Done" button.
4. Click the "Done" button once you are ready to submit your completed application.

Time Commitment:

Please note: The time commitment to the UPN program is extensive. All coursework must be completed before the UPN program start date. Students must give a full-time effort (40+ hours per week), which will include evening and weekend activities. Participants are prohibited from enrolling or participating in additional programs and/or courses if selected to participate in the UPN program.

Citizenship:

Unfortunately, our funding sources limit program eligibility to USA Citizens and green card holders. Please contact SOMREO@salud.unm.edu if you have a question regarding your eligibility.

Race & Ethnicity

Undergraduate Pipeline Network (UPN) Summer Research Experience Application

The University of New Mexico is required by Federal law to request this information for statistical reporting purposes.

Your response is voluntary.

Federal Race and Ethnicity Definitions:

Hispanic or Latino: A person of Cuban, Mexican, Puerto Rican, South or Central American, or Spanish culture or origin, regardless of race.

American Indian or Alaska Native: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of the North and South America (including Central America) who maintains cultural identification through tribal affiliation or community attachment.

Asian: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of the Far East, Southeast Asia, or the Indian Subcontinent, including, for example, Cambodia, China, India, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Pakistan, the Philippine Islands, Thailand, and Vietnam.

Black or African American: A person having origins in any of the black racial groups of Africa.

Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of Hawaii, Guam, Samoa, or other Pacific Island.

White: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of Europe, the Middle East, or North Africa.

18. Do you consider yourself to be Hispanic/Latino(a/x)?

- Yes
 No

19. In addition, select one or more of the following racial categories to describe yourself:

- Asian
 Black or African American
 Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander
 White
 American Indian or Alaska Native

20. Languages you speak fluently, besides English?

21. Do you consider yourself an underrepresented individual in the science workforce? The NIH identifies underrepresented individuals in the following categories.* Check all that apply. [Complete this question for reporting purposes only. This question will not affect your admissions decision.]

- Individuals who identify their race or ethnicity as Black, African American, Hispanic, Latinx, American Indian, Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian, and other Pacific Islanders
- Individuals with documented disabilities, who are defined as those with a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities (major life activities include, but are not limited to, caring for oneself, performing manual tasks, seeing, hearing, eating, sleeping, walking, standing, lifting, bending, speaking, breathing, learning, reading, concentrating, thinking, communicating, and working), as described in the Americans with Disabilities Act
- Individuals who come from a family with an annual income below established low-income thresholds (thresholds here: <https://aspe.hhs.gov/poverty-guidelines>)
- Individuals who come from an educational environment such as that found in certain rural or inner-city environments that has demonstrably and directly inhibited the individual from obtaining the knowledge, skills, and abilities necessary to develop and participate in a research career

*Please click on THIS LINK for more explanation/definition of these underrepresented categories from the National Institutes of Health.

37. Please describe any additional research experience including dates of project and mentor name.

UPN Areas of Research

Undergraduate Pipeline Network (UPN) Summer Research Experience Application

Our UPN scholars have access to cutting edge research opportunities in the following areas at the University of New Mexico's Health Sciences Center. You will be asked to rank your interest in these research areas on the next page of this application.

Brain and Behavioral Neurosciences

Examples of Past UPN Projects:

- A. Third Trimester Equivalent Alcohol Exposure Does Not Affect Acute or Long Term Hippocampal Neurogenesis*
- B. Effects of serotonin on spreading depolarizations in mice hippocampal slices*

Cancer Biology

Examples of Past UPN Projects:

- A. Trends in Hepatitis C and Hepatocellular Carcinoma in New Mexico*
- B. Effect of Perinatal Exposure to Bisphenol-A On Mammary Tumorigenesis in Mice*

Cardiovascular and Metabolic Disease

Examples of Past UPN Projects:

- A. Chronic Hypoxia Increases Endothelial Nitric Oxide Synthase Phosphorylation in Lungs from Neonatal Rats*
- B. The Niemann-Pick gene interacts with modifying gene PGC-1 to promote obesity in non-Hispanic Whites and diabetes in Hispanics*

Community-Based/Health Disparities

Examples of Past UPN Projects:

- A. Using Pedestrian Counts to Assess Community-Wide Interventions to Increase Physical Activity in Rural Cuba, NM Environmental Factors Influencing Drinking Water Consumption and Access in Rural Communities: Cuba, New Mexico*
- B. Colorectal Cancer Disparities and Physical Activity Distribution in Hispanics and Non-Hispanic Whites in New Mexico*

Environmental Toxicology & Pharmacology

Examples of Past UPN Projects:

- A. Heavy Metal Exposure, Biomarkers of Autoimmunity and IL17 levels In Two Tribal Communities*
- B. Regulation of Histone Acetylation in Platinum Resistant Ovarian Cancer Cells*

Infectious Disease and Immunity

Examples of Past UPN Projects:

- A. Regulation of β -glucan Exposure from Mannan Masking in Candida albicans*
- B. Sex-dependent differences in susceptibility to methicillin resistant Staphylococcus aureus skin infection*

* 38. Please review the possible areas of research and rank your interest in them from 1-6 with one (1) being your highest level of interest and six (6) being your lowest level of interest.

If you are offered a position as a UPN scholar, we will endeavor to place you in a research environment reflective of those areas you are highly interested in experiencing.

Cardiovascular & Metabolic Disease

Community-Based/Health Disparities

Environmental Toxicology & Pharmacology

Infectious Disease & Immunity

* 39. Briefly describe why you are interested in your top (number 1 and number 2) rankings for your UPN research interest area.

* 40. Please select ALL the groups you are uncomfortable working with:

- Animals (ex. amphibians, birds, fish, insects, mammals, reptiles, etc.)
- Infectious Agents (some viruses, bacteria, fungi, protozoa, multicellular parasites, or prions)
- Patients
- Tissue (including blood)
- None. I am comfortable working with all groups related to research.
- I am uncomfortable working with the following unlisted group(s):

42. What is your career interest?

Personal Statement

Undergraduate Pipeline Network (UPN) Summer Research Experience Application

* 43. Insert your personal statement explaining why you would like to be considered for the UPN Summer Research Experience. Please ensure to address:

- your career goals
- reasons for wanting to engage in summer research
- how the UPN program fits into your career plan

Note that the system will not accept images.

The system limits text to 5000 characters or about 2 typed pages.

Letter of Recommendation

Undergraduate Pipeline Network (UPN) Summer Research Experience Application

The UPN Program requires one (1) letter of recommendation to complete your application package. Please provide us with contact information for your reference. There are additional referee information sections here if you wish to submit more than one letter of recommendation.

You are responsible for contacting your referee and instructing them to send your letter of recommendation directly to the UPN program via email (somreo@salud.unm.edu) from their official university or business email. It is your responsibility to ask your referee to write a letter of recommendation for you before you submit their information on this application and before the application deadline.

* 44. Reference Information: Please note that an email address for your referee is required. The UPN program does not confirm references by telephone.
